

Specialists in Workers' Compensation since 1942

Safety National Workers' Compensation Products for Construction Classes

Since 1942, Safety National has provided continuous service to thousands of employers nationwide, working with clients to develop specialized products that fit their needs. Consistent with that approach, Safety National is one of the premier providers of excess and large deductible workers' compensation coverage for construction contractors and self-insured groups in the United States. Safety can offer your organization a specialized approach to your workers' compensation program in addition to superior customer service through our dedicated construction underwriting team.

Following are a few of the benefits Safety National can offer.

Excess Workers' Compensation

- Specific and aggregate coverage available
- Coverage available for self-insured stand-alone entities and groups
- Unbundled claims environment
- Multi-year terms available

Safety National Out-of-State Program for Self-insured Groups

Safety National recognizes the needs of self-insured groups that have operations spanning across several states. That's why we have developed a practical solution for our self-insured groups with multi-state exposures.

- Primary carriers will often require that they provide all coverage for workers' compensation exposures in all of the states in which the organization operates.
- Safety National has developed a program that allows our groups to stay self-insured in the state in which they are domiciled, while providing a primary policy for out-of-state operations if needed.
- Our approach not only lets groups retain existing members with out-of-state exposures, it also allows groups to attract new prospective members they may not have been able to quote in the past due to those exposures.
- Safety National is admitted and licensed in all 50 states.
- We offer guaranteed cost programs with no risk sharing.
- Safety National has an underwriting team exclusively dedicated to construction and can provide a quote in no more than five business days.
- Claim services are provided by TPAs pre-qualified by Safety National.

MAP Client Services

MAP Client Services assists Safety National policyholders with injury prevention and claim cost containment through management, analysis and prevention. The program offers a range of online resources, self-assessment tools and e-learning systems for employers. Most of these services are offered free of charge to our policyholders.
