

STUDENT CRISIS INTERVENTION

Every school is different, with its own unique risks, responsibilities and needs. In response, The Crisis Prevention Institute (CPI) has created training for various risk levels that helps all educational professionals prepare for and reduce crisis situations. Each course features evidenced-based strategies and techniques focus on the care, welfare, safety and security of all students and staff.

Prevention First

For low risk environments

Prevention First training expands awareness of workplace violence and the behaviors that cause it, helping to unify staff. This online self-guided program teaches individuals to recognize potential crisis situations and the protocols they should implement to properly address these situations.

Verbal Intervention™

For medium risk environments

Verbal Intervention training instills the confidence and skills to verbally de-escalate disruptive behaviors and prevent further escalation. The course is ideal for schools with a hands-off policy and/or staff who do not experience the kind of higher risk situations that require restrictive interventions.

The Safety National and CPI partnership provides a substantial discount for all mutual K-12 clients. Safety National will cost share by funding a portion of CPI resource access for K-12 policyholders with general liability or educators legal liability coverage.

Nonviolent Crisis Intervention®

For high risk environments

Geared towards educators who directly intervene in crisis situations, Nonviolent Crisis Intervention focuses on verbal de-escalation and early intervention. This training teaches safe disengagements and restrictive interventions that can be implemented with minimal use of force.

Nonviolent Crisis Intervention® with Advanced Physical Skills

For highest risk environments

Nonviolent Crisis Intervention with Advanced Physical Skills training provides effective tools and decision-making skills to help staff manage environments with individuals who are more likely to demonstrate dangerous or more complex behaviors. The course offers a wider array of verbal and physical intervention options.

Features:

- Efficient training modules prepare staff for the unpredictable nature of workplace violence.
- Training is based on real world conditions and case studies.
- Participants learn to manage their own emotional responses and identify escalating behaviors in others.
- Courses teach effective approaches on how to manage the "emotional brain" in stressful situations.
- Post-crisis strategies assist staff teams to recognize prevention tactics in the aftermath of a crisis.

According to Users:

- 96% said courses improved school safety.
- 89% said training improved staff response skills and confidence.
- 58% said the program helped reduce restraint and seclusion use by 50-100%.
